You were right! I love that picture. I am glad it is warm enough to swim! Snow here, but not enough for a snow day. Miss you, but glad you are having fun! -love, mom

re: thank you

Dear Evelyn,
You certainly had a busy birthday--with both a canoe trip and a party. I heard how your parents snuck you into your new princess bed. It must have been a great surprise to wake up in the new bed!

So u know how the birds keep eating ur crops? Drag a adept/master farmer over to the roots near the dark blue strange flower, and he will build a scarecrow! You have to drag him there twice. :) :)

Hi Ev--I wanted to let you know that Goldie passed on today. She must have been almost 10, I think, which is a very good innings for a tank goldfish (pond fish live longer), esp one who had such a rough start in life. She was a tough little fish and I'll miss her. Thank you for saving her from the fair and letting her come live with me.
Love, Biz

Hello, My name is Evie and I have just one thing to ask
1. Are there going to be any new comics?
because I never see any new ones at the store
I shop in. Bye. From, Evie.

Hey talia. I just want u to know that u should bring money for us to walk home 2morrow so we can get lunch. Also: Another idea is we could ride the bus to hillsboro village since u havent done it before.
Just an idea! Please call me when u get this email. I will probs be awake, k? THANKS!!
